

Lana & Kai

Miniature Donkeys

Born: 2018/2019 Gender: Female/Male

Lana and Kai are a loving pair who bring comfort and lots of personality to our ohana. Lana is kind, affectionate, and happiest when she is receiving gentle attention. Her Hawaiian name is Lanakila (lah-nah-KEE-lah) which means “victory” reflecting her steady and nurturing spirit. Kai is thoughtful and curious, with a playful side - especially if peppermint treats are nearby. His Hawaiian name is Ikaika (ee-KAI-kuh), which means “strength.” We lovingly call him “Kai cow” because of his sweet cow-like markings. They joined our ohana in 2024 and are true lovebugs. Often, they’ll stand on either side of a visitor, offering what we call “double donkey hugs.” Their steady companionship helps create a safe, peaceful space for reflection and connection.

Fun Fact!

Donkeys are terrified of bridges, especially if they span water, because they dislike unstable or unfamiliar footing. This self-preservation instinct is often mistaken with stubbornness when, in reality, donkeys are like chess players; they think long and hard about a move before taking it!
